George Mann is a New York City-based folksinger who sings songs from the last century of labor and social activism. His own songs are powerful and funny takes on the state of the nation. He also writes songs of hope, healing, struggle and triumph. He also recorded and performed with Julius Margolin, who was 93 when he died last August.

His new CD, "Until You Come Home," features such folk legends as Tom Paxton, Utah Phillips, Holly Near, Magpie, John Gorka and many more artists singing songs about the experiences of war and of returning home. Inspired by the book "Voices of Vets," George produced this new CD to help welcome home our returning service members and recognize the sacrifices they and their families have made for our country. He also released his latest CD, "Songs for Jules and Bruce," earlier this year.

Potluck dinner at 6:30 PM, and the music starts at 7:30 PM. If attending the potluck, please bring a dish, snacks and/or drinks if you can, or just come for the concert at 7:30 PM!
