

What's Wrong With the Media? How Big Is Too Big?

How Do You See Yourself and Your Community Represented in the Media?
Want More Diversity and Local Programming? More Local Jobs in Radio and TV?

TELL the FCC*!

* The FCC is the government body charged with regulating radio and TV for the public good.

Here are 3 things you can do:

❶ Come to an FCC TOWN-HALL MEETING.

Thursday August 31, 6:30-9:30 pm

USC - Davidson Conference Center • 3415 South Figueroa Street • Los Angeles
Enter through Gate 4 on Jefferson Blvd. at Royal St.

Share your story!

Congresswomen Solis and Watson and 2 FCC Commissioners will be present at this event.
Everyone is welcome! Come to listen and speak up about your concerns with your local media and your suggestions for change.

❷ Learn more at one of three prep workshops on media:

August 24, 12-1 pm
CWA Local 9000
5855 Venice Blvd

August 24, 6-7 pm
CWA Local 9000
5855 Venice Blvd

August 31, 5-6 pm
(see website for details)

❸ Spread the word! Tell your neighbors and friends!

The Town-Hall Meeting is sponsored by the National Latino Media Council, in partnership with Media Alliance and Free Press.
