William Kunstler: Disturbing the Universe is the story of one of the most important radical lawyers in U.S. history. The film was made by his daughters, Emily Kunstler and Sarah Kunstler.

In a time when so few sacrifice for their convictions, when the “realpolitik” and maneuvering within the framework we’ve been handed is largely the order of the day, people need to see this movie, learn about the times and people Bill was changed by and be challenged by Bill’s courage, convictions and transformations.

Go in droves and tell your friends. Look for an interview in Revolution Newspaper next week (revcom.us) with Sarah, Emily, their mother, lawyer Margie Ratner, CCR attorney Michael Ratner and Yusef Salaam (an exonerated defendant in the “Central Park jogger case”).
